My Name is Not Easy by Debby Dahl Edwardson
Alaskans Luke, Chickie, Sonny, Donna, and Amiq relate their experiences in the early 1960s when they are forced to attend a Catholic boarding school where, despite different tribal affiliations, they come to find a sort of family and home.

Paper Covers Rock by Jenny Hubbard
Fabricating a web of lies with his best friend in order to cover up his perceived responsibility for a classmate’s accidental drowning, 16-year-old Alex hides in the library and records the events of the fateful day in his journal until a new English teacher recognizes talent and guilt in his writing assignments.

What We Hide by Marthe Jocelyn
Told from multiple viewpoints, high school junior Jenny of Philadelphia spends a semester at a Quaker boarding school in Sheffield, England, near where her brother is avoiding the Vietnam draft, and where everyone carries close-held secrets.

Tragedy Paper by Elizabeth Laban
While preparing for the most dreaded assignment at the prestigious Irving School, the Tragedy Paper, Duncan gets wrapped up in the tragic tale of Tim Macbeth, a former student who had a clandestine relationship with the wrong girl, and his own ill-fated romance with Daisy.

Jellicoe Road by Melina Marchetta
High school student Taylor Markham, who was abandoned by her drug-addicted mother at the age of eleven, struggles with her identity and family history at a boarding school in Australia.
Even in Paradise by Chelsey Philpot
Believing she knows everything about a new celebrity student at her school, Charlotte unexpectedly befriends the girl and is introduced to a world of parties and privilege before falling for the secretly grieving girl's older brother.

Winger by Andrew Smith
Younger than his classmates at a boarding school, Ryan Dean West grapples with living in the dorm for troublemakers, falling for his friend who thinks of him as just a kid, and playing wing on the Varsity rugby team.

Where the Truth Lies by Jessica Warman
Emily, whose father is headmaster of a Connecticut boarding school, suffers from nightmares, and when she meets and falls in love with the handsome Del Sugar, pieces of her traumatic past start falling into place.

Belzhar by Meg Wolitzer
If life were fair, Jam Gallahue would still be at home in New Jersey with her sweet boyfriend, Reeve. She certainly wouldn't be at The Wooden Barn, a therapeutic boarding school in rural Vermont, living with a weird roommate and signed up for a mysterious class called Special Topics in English. But life isn't fair, and Reeve Maxfield is dead. This is a breathtaking and surprising story about first love, deep sorrow, and the power of acceptance.
